Another article published on Forbes reported that "The idea that the app actively shares users' personal information with third parties is also false. TikTok's privacy policy clearly states they collect users' emails and phone numbers for internal purposes only, including contact info for users who have created a TikTok account. Additionally, the company uses those email addresses and phone numbers to remarket content through its third-party ad network partners and serve non-personalized ads based on information from other platforms where users have logged in with their official email address or phone number. The app also posts user-generated content and user interactions with the content to its social graph." ,

In October 2021, Postmates announced that it would remove TikTok from their platform after pressure from users who don't want to see ads in front of their favorite moments. The move was seen by some as a step towards eliminating advertising on TikTok." ,

In March 2021, the French government requested that TikTok be permanently banned from Apple's App store and Google Play because of its pornographic videos. The Minister of the Interior Christophe Castaner stated that: "the goal is to force them to make changes, notably by using age verification tools." • TikTok can be observed as a useful case for understanding the development of "internet culture". It could be said that while other popular social platforms like Twitter and Instagram are popular with users because of their features, it is precisely TikTok's rejection of such features that makes it so popular among young people. This is because they attribute the lack of these features to its ability to focus on the video clips themselves, and thus on the people they can "connect" with. For this reason, TikTok's success can also be attributed to it being an app driven by pure fun and entertainment." , TikTok was founded by former entrepreneur Evan Spiegel and his co-founder, Bobby Murphy. The app's name is derived from the phrase "to kill time", which is how the two felt while at college. In February 2021, vlogging duo from Russia, Rus Yusupov and Arseniy Yatsenyuk released a video criticising TikTok for its lack of privacy and branding it as an addiction, creating their own social media platform called "Privatst". The two then began a campaign to get people to sign a petition in protest of the company's actions." ,

A few days after this article was published, TikTok announced in response to these concerns that it is conducting an audit of all accounts with unpaid subscription fees. As of April 2021, various media outlets reported that TikTok had managed to identify tens of millions of accounts which were involved in posting content on the platform without having paid for it. The publication also reported that the video service was working with legal and other experts to help recommend steps which could be taken against people who had posted content without paying for it. A representative for TikTok told a news outlet that "We are always taking measures to ensure our community is able to enjoy the best TikTok experience possible. When we identify that an account has been using features without paying subscriptions, we interrupt services so they can upgrade. We also work closely with our legal team to take action against all accounts that don't comply with our Terms of Use.""",

3. Another interesting feature of the app is that it doesn't allow users to turn off the auto-playing video feature once they've opened the app. If this function for any reason isn't turned off, users will have to wait about 2 minutes before a video will play automatically and as a result of this, if they're not on Wi-Fi, it could even take longer for them to render the video.",

In an article published on Mashable, it was alleged that "For TikTok users, their content is worth money. And the company's revenue model relies heavily on selling ads to companies and brands that want to reach the people who are consuming all that video content." It continued by saying that "In other words, TikTok relies on its users for their data in order to sell ads. But there's a huge flaw with this strategy: The app's algorithm has been shown to discriminate against certain communities of users and thus encourage less diverse engagement. In 2021, a class-action lawsuit alleged that TikTok discriminates against users based on ethnicity." This article was published on Mashable.",
